

GOOD DESIGN

Alignment

The placement of the same character one the line in sequence creates a feeling of movement towards a certain direction, and notion that there is a journey for the character ahead.

JAKE GYLLENHAAL

Proximity

The closeness of the two same people, but vastly opposed faces and directions of gaze lead the viewer to see there is an expected inner turmoil, and that the "Enemy" may be the main character himself.

Contrast

The large contrast created by the white and different shades of red and black leads the viewer to get a glimpse into the harsher and more violent/ suspenseful tone of the movie.

